Bell-Fruit sign partnership agreement with GTS

(LONDON, UK – April 2009) Gaming Technology Solutions PLC (“GTS”), a leading global supplier of end-to-end soft gaming solutions have today announced the signing of a partnership agreement with Bell-Fruit Games Ltd (“BFG”), a high-quality amusement and gaming machine manufacturer.

Under the agreement, GTS will integrate new games created by Bell-Fruit on to the GTS Enhanced Gaming Engine (EdGE) platform. This will allow any operator using the EdGE platform to access all existing and future games content created by Bell-Fruit.

The Bell-Fruit Group is a market leader in designing and manufacturing games for multiple markets. With an extensive back catalogue of instantly recognisable games from the pub and arcade sectors, BFG’s transition into the online arena will offer players a familiar gaming experience with a trusted brand and are uniquely placed in bringing their knowledge of the player’s needs and wants into the online space in both the UK and across Europe.

The GTS EdGE platform is a cost effective and easily integrated games engine that allows online operators to manage their games with ease. The enhanced Back Office (ICE) delivers many functional and performance enhancements to including support for games marketing campaigns, report customisation, customer support and much more in a user interface that is both practical and easy to use.

Steven Matsell, Director at GTS commented, “Bell-Fruit games are an exciting addition to our growing list of game partners. They bring a wealth of experience to the online gaming sector and their games are certain to be popular and profitable.”

Tony Oliver, Managing Director of Mazooma, part of the Bell-Fruit Group says, "We are delighted to continue our online expansion with GTS, this gives us the opportunity to present our games to the broader European market where previously we have had great success in the offline space."
